

BIG DEATH RATE DUE TO OVERCROWDING

Dr. Copeland Says Twenty Largest Cities in United States Have House Shortage.

Dr. Royal S. Copeland, Health Commissioner, is home from Detroit, where he presided at a meeting of health officials from twenty cities, having a population of 200,000 or more, called at the request of the Senate Committee on Reconstruction.

Dr. Copeland said from 20 to 30 per cent. of the population in each of the twenty cities were suffering from the dwelling shortage.

Unsanitary conditions from over-crowding, he said, increased the infant mortality rate and the danger from tuberculosis, pneumonia and other diseases.
